the ballot in the election, and receive the choice of it from who is known to be true to the Constitution and the Union. [Great cheering.] It was time for the old Whigs to form themselves into a National Guard, and they asked who constituted that National Guard and replied by another National Guard: "The National Guard knows how to die, but knows not how to surrender." [Applause.]

THE GOVERNOR'S SPEECH AT CONSIDERABLE LENGTH.

The Governor again thanked the Convention for the honor shown him, and sat down, but rose again immediately to say that the delegate from New-York, who had in his pocket an original copy of WASHINGTON'S Farewell Address, would open proceedings by reading that portion which recommends moderation, and peace and union, and all that sort of thing. "Which," he, declared the Governor in a transport of enthusiasm, "of What could be a more glorious inauguration of our proceedings than to-day thus to hear, in the world's witness which fell from the lips of the Father of his country?" [Great applause.]

Whereupon Mr. HIRAM KETCHUM of New-York got up, a little tipsy, pulled a small and rusty volume from his breeches pocket, shouldered the Chairman, and proceeded to read several pages of WASHINGTON'S address, commencing in 1796, copies of which may be found in the last edition of the Journal of Speeches.

THE COMMITTEES TO CONFERRED.

This important business transacted, the next thing in order was the appointment of a Nominating Committee to select permanent officers, a motion of Mr. GOSSIN to that effect having been agreed to, and the following gentlemen were paired off and dispatched out of the hall to attend to it:

There were a lot of a disturbance. Gentlemen from Virginia were provoked, and remonstrated. The Chairman of the Maryland delegation got up and apologized, and the Marylanders, with one accord, gave up their seats to the F. F. V's. Then there was a small slice of fun privately divided among themselves, but commotion became subdued instantly, when it was announced that the Committee on Organization was standing without, even at the door, waiting to be heard. They were heard. They came in, headed by DAVID PAUL BROWN, of Philadelphia, and made the following report of nominations for

WHAT SHALL SAVE THE UNION.

Judge BATES was conducted to the Chair by Messrs. WM. G. MEREDITH, of New-York, CHAPMAN, of Maryland, and PRESTMAN, of Virginia. In assuming the Chair, the Judge exclaimed: "This is a great day! I hope it will not be belittled by any action of mine while I occupy a place on this platform. He went on to say that the day had been alluded to as the anniversary of the issue of WASHINGTON'S Farewell Address. He trusted that it would be a day, too, of the rejuvenation and reorganization of the Whig Party—the glorious old Whig Party. [Applause.] He was an Old Line Whig—an old fogy if you pleased—but he was not afraid to avow it. Old Line Whigs had lived to read their own obituaries, and they have found that after the writer of life have passed, nothing is said of the dead but what is good. The party said not get dead, in the Judge's opinion. It was not time for victory, but to reorganize and be reanimated for the glorious fight that is before it. The Whig Party of the United States is the body guard of the Constitution. Its banner is untarnished. It has done as much in a minority as in a majority, or it has arrested the downward tendency of things. It has called in a voice of warning. The Judge avowed his belief in the eternal, glorious principles of government which the Whig Party embraced. He knew that Whigs were good and true, or they would not be here. They had undergone a filtrating process. They were now old and weak and helpless, and must build up anew. But he thanked God they had a basis as broad to build upon as that which our fathers had. [Great applause.] Their enemies had only been able to tear down the scaffolding around them. Rich materials lay all about them, and from these they would erect a nobler and more enduring and elegant palace. They had come to this Convention to work. He had come a thousand miles to be here, and would have gone three thousand had it been necessary. [Applause.] The party had nothing left now but principles. It does not seek for offices, for that would be hopeless. It is too weak to have a candidate. It is called to do a great work, for it cannot be expected to join the Democratic Party, and so unsay all that it has said.—[Applause]—and he for one refused to unsay his utterances, for the man who has in his heart the consciousness of right principles will not be afraid to stick by them.—[Renewed applause.]—and good men are not afraid to stand alone. The Whig Party will do something then. It will open a new recruiting rendezvous. In his own State of [illegible] Whigs were narrow but men were very generous. They rise in value as they sink in numbers. [Laughter.] Just the smaller the crew the more they are thought of, as jewelers put up diamonds in the smallest packages. [Renewed laughter and cheers.] Old men there were before him, but among them he saw aspiring young men, and in this fact saw elements of success. Adherence to platforms, the planks of which are grooved and tongued together, he did not relish; it makes no difference if the planks are laid bluntly together, so long as they are the right ones. What a Whig is, the wayfaring man, though a fool, may read. The Constitution is better than any platform. Let Whigs go on, then, in love, and peace, and harmony bound together by external pressure, hooped in, said once, by hoops of iron. Let them not seek to repeal the dictionary and give new meanings to plain English words, [laughter,] but believe that Whiggery is as good now as it was in the days of the Revolution. In short, let thine be the union of order, the wisdom of harmony, and the strength that flows from united minds. [Great applause.]

A COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Was then appointed, on motion of Mr. RANDOLPH, of New-Jersey, consisting of the following gentlemen:

Va.....Robert Y. Conrad.	N. J....Judge Randolph.
Ill.....David A. Brown.	Del.....John C. Clark.
Miss....Gen. W. A. Strong.	Penn....John S. Sedgwick.
Mass....Hon. Geo. Lunt.	Me.....Edward Kendall.
Va.....J. P. Sanderson.	Pa.....David Paul Brown.
Ark....J. H. Graham.	Md.....William Schley.
Ala.....H. H. Armstrong.	Ct.....James M. Townsend.
N. Y....Samuel B. Ruggles.	Ky.....S. S. Nicholas.
N. C....Geo. W. Mordecai.	La.....Geo. W. Eustis.
Ga.....James W. Jones.

The Committee took a recess till 5 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On reassembling, the roll of delegates was called by States, and it was announced that the Committee on Resolutions would not be ready to report till 10 o'clock to-morrow. (Thursday.)

On motion of Mr. WOLFE, of Kentucky:

Resolved, That the Committee on Resolutions be instructed to report an address to the people of the United States.

Nothing to do. Motion to adjourn negatived twice over. People wanted something to occupy their minds. Called for speaker. Speaker came. Much eloquence displayed. Laudation of Union, Constitution, Whiggery, and MILLARD FILLMORE. Much flashing into of fashions. Sectional agitation knocked in the head. Enthusiasm immense. Conservatism universally shouting, yelling, clapping its hands, and whistling. A great time generally, by the space of an hour and a half.

GOV. GRAHAM SPEAKS.

Hon. WM. A. GRAHAM, of North Carolina, was the first speaker, was loudly cheered, and spoke with much enthusiasm. He was taken wholly by surprise. He had attended the Convention at great personal inconvenience. He was delighted to see such an assemblage. It had been said the Whig Party was dead. But if there were its remains, what was it in the days of its prime? [Applause.] If there were its remains, by what supernatural agency had it been brought to life and vigorous? But if it not dead it is still a party. It is a patriotic party and when it appears it appeared that power is overwhelmed, and with patriotic fervor. In Congress he was in the minority. It has always been a conservative party. For the last seven years it has been in a state of inaction. It has not come forward to contend for the rights of the country but in the midst of unusual commotion from its adversaries of which it boldly will be proud. [Applause.] An Old Line Whig is still as respectable as any man. [Laughter.] And it is not only strange, in view of the bad blood that exists between the parties, that the Whigs have been accused of [illegible] the Democratic party. [Laughter.] Yet now that it comes forward, [illegible] with [illegible] that [illegible] of it. It is to be feared these [illegible] will [illegible] whether they do or not, it does not become the Whig Party to be idle at this crisis. It cannot do, and longer to lie by. It is free with now, and is able to do its for it to nominate a candidate, and it may select the same whom it will support. For [illegible] the Governor knew the [illegible] for some days. [Cheers.] He said his delegation were in [illegible] the name of MILLARD FILLMORE. (Uproarious cheering, waving of hats and [illegible]) And if there was anything wanted to [illegible] that the Whig Party [illegible] the Union, the speaker said, he was [illegible] to go back home and tell his people that they [illegible] the Union. The Governor then entered into an elaborate eulogium of Mr. FILLMORE, who is a man of self-possession, who is a man of justice, who is a man of moderation, who is a man firm in purpose.

FRANCIS GRANGER SPEAKS FOR NEW-YORK.

Hon. FRANCIS GRANGER, of New-York, was called for vociferously. He had hoped, he said, other States would first have been called on before New-York was called to speak. Still, if the Convention desired to hear what he had to say, he would say it as a Whig, and nothing but a Whig. [Great cheering.] For he wished it to be understood, that whoever in this election fell off from the Whig ranks, he remained a Whig, even though he should be like Job, when the messenger came to tell him that all his sons were dead, exclaimed, "All are taken, and behold! I alone am left." [Applause.] The Whig party was a gallant party to which he was proud to belong. And he deemed it due to the Whig party of New-York to say that everything had been placed before it in this canvass which solicitation could offer or threats intimidate, but it had stood fast in its consistency. Mr. GRANGER then began to speak in high terms of the virtues of Mr. FILLMORE. The Whigs of his own State would not cut off a well-earned public reward he had been presented in a manner other than that which was customary. Mr. GRANGER said he had nothing to do with any of the mysterious Orders of the day, but he could not help echoing the sentiment of DANIEL O'CONNELL, who said that all he asked for his country was that Irishmen should rule Ireland, by saying that he could make no war upon a man because he is taken off by a party which demands that Americans shall rule America. [Prodigious shouts.] Mr. GRANGER spoke at length of FILLMORE'S public services, and then took up his Albany speech, the sensible idea which had induced him (Mr. G.) to break through his resolution not to appear in this canvass at all, and to take the stump in favor of a man who had attached a sentiment to a simply petition and national act, which cleared that petition of its Union, and which for a moment submit to be ruled by a faction based upon sectional prejudices. From this to the day of election Mr. GRANGER expects to be in the field, and counts on a triumph at the polls in November by the aid and counsel of the Old-Line Whigs.

ALEXANDER RIVES, of Virginia, was called out, and gave the sentiments of his district. One good thing in his little speech was a bitter denunciation of Northern dough-faces. "Sir, said he, "the Northern man who would come into my chartered domicile and sit down to talk with me upon the peculiar beauties of the institutions of the State, would, in my opinion, deserve to be kicked out of doors." He then sought, from his own experience, to show that he was a true friend himself. He called out Mr. JOHN JAFFRAY, a brother delegate from Virginia, who spoke three minutes and a half.

Then came GEORGE LUNT, of Massachusetts, who made a poetical more than a political harangue, and then a motion for adjournment prevailed, and at 7½ o'clock the Convention agreed to meet again in a friendly way at 10 o'clock Thursday, and went home to take a cup of tea. A. M.

The Whig National Convention.

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Daily Times.

BALTIMORE, Thursday, Sept. 18—P. M.

The Convention was opened this morning with prayer, by Rev. Mr. CARRAHAN, of Baltimore.

While waiting for the advent of the Committee on the address and resolutions, the Convention was comforted by speeches. GEORGE A. FRASER spoke for FILLMORE and Maryland, but he was greatly interrupted by the return of the Committee, who reported through ROGER T. CONRAD, Chairman.

There is no address, the Committee's report being in form of resolutions only. The Committee were unanimous in action. The resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States are assembled here by reverence for the Constitution, and unalterable attachment to the National Union, and a fixed determination to do all in their power to preserve it for themselves and posterity. They have no new principles to announce—no new platform to establish; but are content broadly to rest where their forefathers have rested upon the Constitution of the United States—wishing no safer guide, no higher law.

Resolved, That we regard with the deepest anxiety the present disordered condition of our National affairs. A portion of the country being ravaged by civil war, and large sections of our population embittered by mutual recriminations; and we distinctly trace these calamities to the culpable neglect of duty by the present National Administration.

Resolved, That the Government of these United States was formed by the conjunction or political unity of wide-spread geographical sections, materially differing not only in climate and products, but in their social domestic institutions; and that any cause which shall permanently array these sections in political hostilities and organized parties, founded only on geographical distinctions, must inevitably prove fatal to the continuance of the National Union.

Resolved, That the Whigs of the United States have declared as the fundamental article of their political faith the absolute necessity of avoiding geographical parties—that the danger so clearly discerned by the "Father of his Country" founded on "geographical distinction," has now become fearfully apparent in the agitation convulsing the nation, which must be arrested at once, if we would preserve our constitutional Union from dismemberment, and the name of America from being blotted from the family of civilized nations.

Resolved, That all who revere the Constitution and the Union must look with alarm at the parties in the field at the present Presidential canvass,—one claims only to represent sixteen Northern States, and the other appealing to the passions and prejudices of the Southern States,—that the success of either of the factions must add fuel to the flame which now threatens to wrap our dearest interest into one common ruin.

Resolved, That the only remedy for an evil so appalling, is to frown upon candidates belonging to neither geographical sections, now arranged in political antagonism, but holding both in just and equal regard; that we congratulate the friends of the Union that such a candidate exists in MILLARD FILLMORE.

Resolved, That without adopting or referring to the peculiar adaptions of the party which have already elected MILLARD FILLMORE as their candidate, we look to him as a well tried and faithful friend of the Constitution and the Union. Eminent alike for his wisdom and firmness—for his justice and moderation in foreign relations, for his calm and pacific temperament, well becoming a great and enlightened Government. For his devotion to the Constitution in its true spirit, and his inflexibility in executing the laws, but, beyond all those attributes, of being the representative of neither of the two sectional parties now struggling for political supremacy.

Resolved, That in the present exigency of political affairs, we are not called upon to discuss subordinate questions of administration in considering the constitutional powers of Government. It is enough to know that civil war is raging and the Union in peril, and proclaim the conviction that a restoration of the Fillmore Presidency will furnish the best if not the only means of restoring peace.

Resolved, That we cordially approve of the nomination of Andrew J. Donelson for the Vice-Presidency, regarding him as a fitting representative of a district faithfully devoted to the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That the spontaneous uprising of the Whigs throughout the country, their enthusiastic rally in the support of the National candidates, and the unity of purpose displayed, unanimously adopt the instrument of preserving and reinvigorating their party organization; that a National Whig Committee, one from each of the States, be appointed by the President, with authority to call any further Conventions, and generally promote an effective organization of the party throughout the States.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published, and respectfully submitted by the Committee as an address to the people of the United States.

A Delegate from Ohio objected to DUNLAP'S name, but without effect.

[illegible] of the Convention proceeded to consider the political constitution of conditions by a unanimous vote, it was agreed to unanimously. He moved to lay the resolutions on the table, and have them printed. [Shouts of "No."]

The question was then put, but was lost by 30 to 1.

The resolutions were now read again, and were adopted unanimously.

The commencement of the adoption of the resolutions was received with transports of enthusiasm. Delegates rose to their feet and cheered vociferously. and Fields, of Maryland, said it seemed as if he had a year more old man.

He is informed that the post-offices were closed early by Sabbath. It seemed with the delay of publishing the proceedings of the Convention, and whether the resolutions.

The meeting then Contrary, a Committee was appointed to notify the nomination of the action of the Convention, and then the Convention was called upon to hear speeches from Davy Evans Rogers, of Philadelphia; Francis of New-York; Gov. Graham, of North-Carolina, and HIRAM KETCHUM, of New-York.

HIRAM KETCHUM said that New-York would give her electoral vote for MILLARD FILLMORE, and then the Convention adjourned. Spread that the most enormous lie from the East, but that New-York would cast a Seward vote to prevent his overflowing the South. He went on to shower the South with a fulsome panegyric on "Old Virginia," "Patriotic National Virginia," and so on, and pitched into the newspapers. He believed that New-Jersey would come up and help Fillmore, and had hopes, but evidently dim ones, of Pennsylvania. He spoke of the feeling between the North and the South with particular reference to the Kansas affair, and did not uphold Buchanan, but bitterly denounced SUMNER.

He was followed by SAMPSON, of Pennsylvania, COOPER, of Tennessee, and Judge Minnesota, of Kentucky. Mr. COOPER promised Tennessee to FILLMORE, and Judge MINNESOTA declared upon his conscience that the Union is in imminent danger.

There were sundry other Union-saving speechifications, occupying much time to very little purpose.

The National Executive Committee was then appointed as follows:

New-York.....Francis Granger.
Rhode-Island.....Geo. L. Fletcher.
Massachusetts.....Nathaniel Bishop.
Connecticut.....Dennis Kimberly.
Alabama.....E. A. Hole.
Ohio.....Geo. Anderson.
Indiana.....Jas. E. Blythe.
Louisiana.....Christian Roselius.
Virginia.....Wyndham Robinson.
Illinois.....John T. Stuart.
Pennsylvania.....Mounour Robinson.
Florida.....R. F. Walker.
Arkansas.....E. A. Holbrook.
South Carolina.....John H. Boyce.
Georgia.....James W. Jones.
Mississippi.....Chas. G. McChesney.
Delaware.....Wm. H. Rice.
Tennessee.....Edward Cooper.
Kentucky.....Thornton Grimsley.
Maryland.....John S. Thomas.
Kentucky.....Joshua F. Bell.

Mr. WARNER, of Massachusetts, offered resolutions of thanks to Judge BATES, the President of the Convention; to the other officers, and to the Committee of Arrangements and citizens of Baltimore, and they were adopted unanimously.

Judge BATES was requested to give his views on the Kansas question. He said he believed that the question was kept open only for electioneering purposes in this campaign. He asserted that the Nebraska bill was the cause of all the troubles that now afflict the country, and spoke of the origin and progress of the bill.

At 4 o'clock P. M. the Convention adjourned sine die, with loud shouts for FILLMORE, and the proud consciousness of having saved the Union. A. M.

The Mass Ratification Meeting in Monument Square.

[BY SPECIAL TELEGRAPH TO THE NEW-YORK DAILY TIMES.]

There have been most extensive preparations for the Mass Ratification Meeting to-night in Monument Square. A spacious platform, sufficient to accommodate the whole Convention, has been erected in front of the Court House. Six lofty Doric columns support immense ornamental transparencies, on the front surmounted by a spread eagle bearing the names of the candidates. Beneath the Federal coat of arms, surrounded by the coats of arms of the several States, in circular rows. The cornices bear the inscriptions, "The Constitution," "Union of the States and States of the Union," and "The Republic," the whole splendidly decorated with tri-colored drapery, and illuminated by six hundred gas lights. The Speaker's stand is illuminated by an elegant chandelier, with the portrait of FILLMORE in the rear. It is altogether the most brilliant display of the kind ever witnessed in Baltimore. The gathering is immense.

The meeting organized at 8 o'clock. WILLIAM SCHLEY, of Maryland, being chosen President, with a large number of Vice-Presidents. The President welcomed the Whigs of the Union in the name of the Whigs of Baltimore and Maryland. The speeches were made from the main stand by Messrs. WM. L. GOSSIN, FRANCIS GRANGER, EDWARD BATES, of Missouri; GRAHAM, of North Carolina; D. PAUL BROWN, of Pennsylvania; JOHN S. PENDLETON, RIVES, of Virginia, and others. There was also speaking from other points of the square. The enthusiasm ran high. It is estimated that there was no less than twenty thousand persons present.

Another Prize Fight—One of the Pugilists Reported Dead.

A prize fight took place at an early hour yesterday morning at the Palisades, on the Jersey shore, nearly opposite Yonkers. The pugilists were CHARLEY LYNCH and AZRY KELLY, the former from the Fifth and the latter from the Fourth Ward.

The contest lasted two hours and fifteen minutes, and at the end of eighty-four rounds LYNCH was declared the victor, KELLY having slipt and fell so heavily as to be unable to come up to time. The contest is described by a a party who witnessed it, as one of the severest mills that has ever taken place in the American ring.

KELLY showed the most science, and struck his man when and where he pleased, but his antagonist being the heavier of the two was able to throw him at close quarters. LYNCH was shockingly bruised about the face, and had his eye closed on the sixth round, but notwithstanding he maintained his ground determinedly when there appeared to be no hopes of his success.

He would have been beaten, it is said, had not his antagonist slipt down on the last round.

LYNCH showed no external marks of suffering, but his internal injuries were very severe, and it was rumored last night that he had died, but nothing definite on the subject could be learned.

The fight was for $[illegible]—$150 aside; JACK MORGANNY, it is said, backing Lynch, and MIKE MURPHY, of Leonard-street, backing KELLY.

Arrangements for the fight had been in preparation for a long time.

A steamer tug conveyed the principals and their respective friends, from Pier No. 3 North River, at 1 o'clock in the morning.

But little effort was made to keep the matter secret.

Arrest of the Head of the Vigilance Committee.

Deputy Sheriff COURSE this morning arrested and brought before the Supreme Court, WILLIAM T. COLEMAN, President of the San Francisco Vigilance Committee, now temporarily in this City. Mr. COLEMAN was arrested on complaint of JAMES B. MALONEY, late of California, who stated in his affidavit that, while performing his duty in guarding the State arms of California against the Vigilance Committee, he was seized, handcuffed and finally expelled the State by that lawless organization, to his great personal and pecuniary damage. He therefore begs that COLEMAN, the leader of the Committee, who is reported to be very wealthy, may be held to bail for $100,000. The Court, however, released the prisoner on giving bail for $[illegible].

Killed by a Ball from his Gun.

THOMAS WALKER, a person residing in Sackett-street, was accidentally killed yesterday morning by falling from his cart and striking his head against the pavement.

THE INAUGURATION OF THE FRANKLIN STATUE.

BOSTON IN A BLAZE.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

BOSTON, Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1856.

Here stands Boston. We come upon it pleasantly as if it were a detached city. The harbor plays on one side of a hill crowded with other with Parthenon temples. The Capitol crowns the city, looking down blue lines on the self-appointed commerce. Strange fancies flash like Lucifer. It make poets seem if it is not so, and weave a lace of "Dreaming and Day" commercial air of great importance. Where is my own home? As if Boston could be the metropolis. Boston. As if the Boston could be interested in the commercial world. If we met Boston a commercial as some city Boston! New-York is the commercial. We find a bit of London, and then a scrap of Paris, have a slice of Berlin, and again we see Rome in the near to Paris. Boston? Boston? Boston, large enough in city size to Europe, which was crowded yesterday, everywhere, and the house that was in a hurry turned themselves into the transparent metropolis. But Boston built herself. Her independence is visible in every thing. Her streets are textured as a Presbyterian argument. Each house declares an opinion of its own, and stands on its own belief. Yet in all this transitionary there is harmony of mind, produced by the air of comfort which perhaps proceeds from the perfect self-satisfaction which appears to pervade every one and every thing.

Boston must have, to-day, fared ill in the sober judgment of a strange visitor unacquainted with the history and character of the American people. The whole population appeared to be beset all such great pageants. A people usually extremely economic, appeared to have rejected all thought of expense, a people usually practical to have surrendered themselves to a mere sentiment, a people usually busy to have resolved to waste a day, and a people usually unsentimental to have determined to abandon themselves, on a sudden, to pompous display. As the brilliant and really heart-stirring procession passed, still peasant men, and women, looking down its long vista of array, as if it would pass for days, it would appear as if not a single institution or man, or image of Boston, but was represented, or rather thrust forward to fulfill its part, and with a strange rivalry contended to be foremost in doing honor to the memory of one man. When the procession was in its high tide, it might really be said that all Boston was converted into a great Theatre or this national eulogy. The city seemed each decorated the brilliant "Hyline" and other Sylvan palaces. But Springfield and Worcester, and all Massachusetts, were said too. From every quarter, by car and wagon, poured in crowds attracted by the name of a man, whose great case was but the tradition of their fathers. How without this apparent enthusiasm? New-York does honor repeatedly to great men, and often, we sudden to say, in very little time. Honors are rather cheap in New-York. A far-seller and brigand has still more a name there at any moment. But Boston is not so lavish of her honors. It cannot be fairly said she is given to shows. Then what can account for the extraordinary and glorious scene of to-day?

"What means this tumult in a vestal's veins?"

The truth is, that excited as Boston looks while I now write, and flushed and flashing her look, she has not lost her balance. She is not giving way to an institutional folly or constitutional infirmity. It required a very combination of great qualities to venture from its deep reserved such enthusiasm as filled the heart of Boston to-day, and such a combination it found.

Ordinary sights are for ordinary sight-seers, but the procession which filled the good old town of Boston to-day was the expression of a nation's feeling. The old and the young, the wisest and the noblest of the brave Bay State met together, with common sympathies, and for the discharge of a common duty. They assembled to do honor to a man in himself the incarnation of the true American character, and a great and glorious actor in that historical epoch during which this country was raised, in a large measure, by his prudence in council, his patience under difficulties, and his valor, where required, to the point of glory and prosperity she now holds. We say FRANKLIN was the true type of the pure, noble, republican feeling of America—of the feeling and virtues it must retain, if it is to continue republican; as JACKSON was the true type of that democratic feeling which must and, if preserved in, in military despotism. Such true types of American feeling are FRANKLIN and JACKSON as are WELLINGTON and COBBETT of English. GEORGE WASHINGTON was but a noble British officer, made a Republican by circumstances. FRANKLIN was a Republican by birth, by labor, by instinct, and by thought. And to FRANKLIN it is well and glorious such homage should be offered as Boston saw to-day.

Between the Duke of WELLINGTON and FRANKLIN, as special types of national character, there were many points in common. Both had grown to be classics in their own life-time. The one like PEEL or ROSSELL, or the other like WEBSTER and CLAY, was not a mere "repose cantative man," holding the moral proxies of a considerable number of other men. Both were national institutions. Both survived the controversies on their characters and were as well appreciated by their contemporaries as by those of this day. Both did and thought nothing to waste. Both were marked by that punctuality and that imperative sense of duty which distinguish the physically strong type of manhood, by clearness of view, uprightness, downright thought and downright language.

The difference was in the range of vision. The mind of the Duke of WELLINGTON was like a garden, full and complete up to its wall, but with no world beyond. That of FRANKLIN, like one of his country's great prairies, stretching far into the distance, and bounded only by the great Sea of Truth.

"A man by action's logic taught to say
Art's dim conclusion, with intuitive eye;
Who, while the thoughtful wonders, guesses or knew
What best he knows well—and has to do;
Who can each task three fold his resolute soul,
Nor know one grain thought save self-control,
(For self-direction has its thousand spheres)
Such wondrous heed's gifts, and such we prize."

Without the slightest personal attractions, with a simplicity of character utterly alien to display, such was the force of his talents and the vigor of his energies, that he became the life and soul of every transaction in which he took part, and a prominent figure in all the long series of historical pictures which adorn the basement of the Republic. The simplicity, uprightness and manliness of his character, free from all those perplexing influences of fashion, vanity or selfishness which blind the vision of ordinary men, gave his dicta and impressible opinion a peculiar and inexplicable intuition into the immediate result of every conjuncture of affairs. The opinion was clear, solid and without a flaw, and the fraction equally free from distortion as from the delusive brilliancy of prismatic coloring.

It was indeed no ordinary spectacle which could have gathered together to one spot such a multitude as swayed and swelled through Boston to-day.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN is one whose glory can afford to be tested by the means employed to elevate it. It is on his great life rather than his great deeds that affectionate homage rises to his memory. To him with reason did not seem to apply that great sentiment about quality the great actions. If they exhibited in him, they were under perfect self-control. On the simple and noble basis of truth he reared his great pillars. Everything was direct, straightforward, and went to the heart of its purpose. His patience, his probity, his punctuality in the smallest things, in everything, the practical stability and reliability of his character, was the type of what has made this country what it is, and what is required to maintain it. Courage, compassion, patience, humanity, enlightened patriotism, great statesmanship, the ability to do at once what was needed to be done, [illegible]

THE TERRITORIAL MILITIA DISBANDED.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

LECOMPTON, Douglas County, Sept. 4, 1856.

My last gave you the history of affairs up to the departure of Gen. LANE from this place. Since then, little of public importance has transpired. Gen. LANE, with his staff, disbanded the army of Gov. SHANNON, in the vicinity of this place, on the morning of the 29th ult., and then proceeded to Lawrence, where he was joined by the remainder of his army. The advance guard, with the baggage train, had arrived some days previous, and had taken possession of Gen. SHANNON's camp. The wife and children of the Governor were in it at the time, but were treated with the greatest kindness. A party of horsemen had gone by Gen. LANE to watch the movements of the enemy, on their return reported that they had seen, on their return, an armed force encamped at Franklin, on the road between this place and Lawrence, and that they had ascertained from a prisoner taken by them, that the Missourians had left Lecompton, and were encamped at Franklin, on the road between this place and Lawrence. Intelligence was received in town of the movement of a body of the army from Lecompton down the creek, and on the East, to intercept the other half, supposed to be of Lane's army, coming up with the Gov. Governor, and interrupt them. His plan was to pass the river and intercept them. He had ordered the ferry boat to be taken up the river, and the fords were guarded, so that they did not cross. Gen. LANE, on this return, learned that they had left the camp, on their return reported that they had left the camp, on their return reported that they had left the camp, on their return reported

The Kansas Election.

A Kansas election takes place on the 9th of October. A new Territorial Legislature is to be chosen on that day. This fact will account for the eagerness of the Pro-Slavery propagandists to complete the work of subduing Kansas. It is with reference to this election that the recent movements of the Border Ruffians have been organized;—that bodies of armed men have been mustered;—that forts have been built; that all possible preparations have been made to sweep out of the Territory every man likely to vote for the exclusion of Slavery.

It should be borne in mind also that by a law of the last Legislature there is to be a master of the militia on election day;—in other words that the great body of the Missouri invaders are to be present at the polls each year. What is the object of this most extraordinary provision? Never before has such a thing been witnessed in this country. LOUIS NAPOLEON, it is true, when he appealed to the popular suffrage of France, stationed troops at the polls for the preservation of order; but even he did not order the voters to come to the ballot with guns in their hands. The Kansas regulation is the most open and shameless avowal yet made of a determination to crush the popular sovereignty of Kansas under the heel of an armed invasion.

We may look for scenes of bloodshed and violence, at the Kansas polls, without a parallel in the history of the country. Nothing but the direct and prompt interposition of the Federal troops, and their employment for the preservation of order throughout the Territory, can prevent the recurrence in every quarter of Kansas of just such scenes as were witnessed a few days since at Leavenworth. There, as our readers remember, when a city election was to be held, the first step taken was a proclamation that no Free-State man should be allowed to approach the polls, and this was followed up by the forcible expulsion from the city of every man known to be in favor of excluding Slavery, and the murder of two who resisted this illegal and outrageous violence.

At every poll in October, every man offering to vote must, if required, solemnly swear that he "Will support the Constitution of the United States, and that he will support and sustain the provisions of an act entitled "An act to organize the Territories of Nebraska and Kansas," and the provisions of the law of the United States commonly known as the "Fugitive Slave law."

Every man who refuses to take such an oath will be excluded from the polls. The object of this provision is simply to exclude Free-State men from voting. How is it when Missourians offer their votes? None of them, as a matter of course, will have any scruples about taking these oaths. And if their right to vote is challenged on other grounds, here is the provision to meet their case:

"SEC. 19. Whenever any person shall offer to vote, he shall BE PRESUMED to be entitled to vote.

SEC. 20. Whenever any person offers to vote, his vote may be challenged by one of the judges, or by any voter, and the judges of the election may examine him touching his right to vote; and if so examined, NO EVIDENCE TO CONTRADICT SHALL BE RECEIVED."

His own declarations are to be received as conclusive! No evidence to contradict shall be received!

And the "Militia" under Gen. RICHARDSON are to be present under arms,—and put down promptly every attempt of settlers to protest against such gross and outrageous abuses of the sanctity of the ballot, and to do whatever may be needful to secure a result favorable to the establishment of Slavery in Kansas. The great conspiracy thus takes another gigantic stride towards the accomplishment of its end;—the new Legislature thus to be forced upon the people will make new laws for Slavery; the Federal Army will be employed to dragoon the people into obedience to them;—and thus, it is hoped, Kansas may be brought into the Union as a SLAVE STATE.

Upon this point the People of the Union will have a word to say.

Amusements.

BURTON'S THEATRE.—The drama called "Charity's Love"—originally produced at the Broadway—was revived here last night with complete success. Mr. DAVENPORT sustains the character of Captain Algernon in a quiet, masterly manner, with a solidity and decision eminently characteristic of the hero. Mrs. DAVENPORT, as Charity, is equally effective. Two better pictures of English sentiment and loyalty we have never seen upon the stage. Messrs. FRENCH, MOORE and MARK SMITH fill up the other parts with decided ability. Mrs. FARREN, as Floribel, is altogether too phlegmatic and oracular for the Italian beauty, and Mr. RAYNORD as Alnaric is far too bad to need any further notice.

The drama has been put on the stage in a very complete manner, costumes and scenery excellent.

CONCERT.—Mme. DE WILHORST—a lady concerning whom rumor has been busy—gave her first grand concert last evening at NIBLO'S Saloon, with the valuable assistance of Signori BRIGNOLIO and ANGIOLO; Senor RAMIREZ VILANOVA, (on an admirable instrument called the Orgue Alexandre,) Signora VILANOVA and Mr. NOLL. The interest of the evening was, of course, centred on the debutante, and profuse honors rewarded her exertions. Mme. DE WILHORST is gifted with a superb voice; clear, full, resonant and sympathetic. It seems to have been well cultivated, but when forced, as it is apt to be in musical efforts before a large audience, it becomes slightly sharp and nasal. There was, however, sufficient at all times to give immediate promise of a very superior artiste. The concert passed off with éclat.

Letter from Senator Seward—His Health Impaired.

From the Detroit Tribune.

AUBURN, Friday, Sept. 19, 1856.

MY DEAR SIR: I have received your letter of the 8th instant, in which you ask me to address a Republican meeting at Detroit on the 2d of October next, and another at Jackson about the same time.

I left Washington with health apparently so much impaired as to require not only that I should rest, but also seek the renovation of a voyage by sea. My health has not only not improved, but has deteriorated since my return to this place. There yet remains a doubt whether the state of my private affairs will leave me at liberty to go abroad; and there yet remains to me also hope that convalescence may render it unnecessary to do so. The debt which the cause of Freedom owes to WILLIAM A. HOWARD is so great, that I cannot hesitate to do what I can towards discharging it, no matter at what cost of personal convenience, and therefore I cheerfully promise that, if I shall be within the United States on the 2d day of October, with strength enough to appear as a man among men, I will speak to as many of the constituents of that noble statesman, as will honor me with their attendance at Detroit. It must depend upon my ability at the time whether I can extend my visit in Michigan to Jackson. Very sincerely and respectfully, your friend and obedient servant, WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

Hon. JACOB M. HOWARD, Detroit.

The Republican State Convention.

Winding Up of the Proceedings.

The State and Electoral Tickets Complete.

SECOND DAY.

SYRACUSE, Thursday, Sept. 18.

The Convention reassembled at 8 o'clock this morning.

Judge EMMONS, from the Committee on resolutions, reported that the said Committee had a hard duty to perform. They had received requests to pass resolutions embodying the views of the Convention on emigration, immigration, and naturalization. By others they had been desired to express an opinion on temperance and on Governor CLARK's administration. The Committee, however, thought that there was one issue that swallowed up all other issues. They had therefore, resolved to leave all such matters untouched. He then read the address, which was confined solely to the Slavery question, reviewing the aggressions of the South; recounting the days when, through a long series of years, had gradually aroused Northern indignation, until it had reached a climax, and had broken forth in a storm that would sweep away all former outrages, and declaring the sole issue with the people is for the non-extension of Slavery.

The address also declared a desire not to interfere with the rights of the South, and a firm determination to resist the spread of Slavery over a foot of free territory, and concludes with a resolution indorsing the platform of the Philadelphia Convention.

The report was adopted with three loud cheers.

The Convention then proceeded to vote for a State Prison Inspector, with the following result:

WESLEY BAILEY, of Oneida	118
THOMAS KIRKPATRICK, of Albany	80
HENRY B. MILLER, of Erie	17
Scattering	5

Whole number of votes cast, 220; necessary to a choice, 115.

The nomination of Mr. BAILEY was made unanimous.

Mr. PINCKNEY, of New-York, moved for the appointment by the Chair of a State Executive Committee, to consist of two members from each Judicial District.

Mr. HUGHES, of Washington, moved to amend by reappointing the present State Committee, with the addition of three members from the Fourth and one from the Fifth Judicial District, to be appointed by the President of the Convention. He stated that District was now unrepresented. Judge WRIGHT, of New-York, moved that the State Committee, so far as referring to that City, be designated as the New-York City Delegation.

Voted down by a large majority.

Mr. HUGHES' amendment was then carried, and the resolution as amended adopted.

The Convention then proceeded to vote for a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	211
Necessary to a choice	106
RUSSELL F. HICKS, of Livingston	120
HENRY H. VANDYKE, of Albany	70
CHARLES F. TUCCKER	14
H. F. BRACE	10
LEONARD F. MARSH, of Dutchess County	8

On motion the nomination of HICKS was declared unanimous.

Mr. GROVER, of Allegany, from the Committee on Elections at Large, reported JAMES R. WARNOCK, of Livingston, and MOSES H. GRINNELL, of New-York.

The several Congressional Districts, called upon for nominations of electors from Congressional Districts, reported as follows:

Dist.		Dist.
1.	Misthorne Temp.	18.	Daniel Cady.
2.	Amos P. Stanton.	19.	Robert S. Hughston.

15.	John C. Harbut.	32.	Rufus Wheeler.
16.	Jacob D. Husband.	33.	Delos E. Sill.
17.	Smith Stillwell.

The announcement of GEORGE LAW's name was received with great applause.

ANDREW STEVENS took the floor and stated that Mr. Law could, under no circumstances whatever, accept a nomination from a District in which he did not reside. The name of Mr. LAW was then unconditionally withdrawn by Mr. STEVENS.

DANIEL D. CONOVER was substituted by the District Delegation.

The nomination was ratified amidst loud applause.

The Chair then announced the portion of the State Committee from the Fourth and Fifth Judicial Districts, as follows:

Fourth District—Charles Hughes, of Washington; Wm. A. Wheeler, of Franklin; Wm. Carey, of Saratoga. Fifth District—Henry L. Burchard, of Oneida.

A vote of thanks was then passed to the officers of the Convention and the members of the Press.

The President made a brief speech, returning his thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He then spoke in praise of the nominees of the Convention, exhorting all to go home and attend to the work before them.

Three cheers for the President's address were given.

The resolutions were ordered to be printed in pamphlet form.

Three cheers were then given for KING, and three more for FILLMORE and DAYTON, when the Convention adjourned sine die.

The New-York Union Democratic Club in Philadelphia.

VISIT TO INDEPENDENCE HALL—GREETING TO MR. BUCHANAN, ETC.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Sept. 18.

The New-York Union Democratic Club visited Independence Hall this morning, and were warmly welcomed by Mayor VAUX, to which the President of the Club responded. Subsequently they partook of an entertainment at the American Hotel. This afternoon, on learning that Mr. BUCHANAN had arrived, they visited the Merchant's Hotel, accompanied by the Keystones. At first an excuse was made for the non-appearance of Mr. BUCHANAN, who was much fatigued from travel, but he finally made his appearance in compliance to the vociferations with which he was greeted. He briefly returned his thanks for the honor and good feeling exhibited, and said he would like to make them a speech, but as he was now the candidate of the great Democratic Party, political etiquette commanded him to be silent. The Clubs bid him farewell with loud and enthusiastic cheers. The Union Club was then accompanied to the boat by the Keystones, leaving for New-York at 5 P. M.

Got a good observation, and made its position in lat. 30° 20', lon. 167° 45' E., by the chronometer. It is a small Sand Island with low bushes, six miles in circumference. It is inhabited, and surrounded by a coral reef, a mile from the shore, and can be seen fifteen miles from the masthead. The same afternoon saw the Michaloff Group to the northward, as laid down on the chart.

A great gathering of the New-Jersey Republicans took place at Morristown yesterday. It is estimated that at least 15,000 persons were present. Addresses were made by Ex-Governor RANSEY, Senator WILSON, B. W. CURTIS, Hon. R. G. MORRIS, and several other distinguished speakers. We have a full report of the proceedings, from special reporters, which is unavoidably crowded out.

There was a rousing meeting of the Tenth Ward Fremont Club, of Brooklyn, last night, which was lequently addressed by JOHN FOWLER, Esq., of New-Rochelle. The allusions to the nominees of the Syracuse Convention, particularly Mr. KING, created the liveliest expressions of enthusiasm.

The Mysterious Absence of Stephen H. Branch.

Mr. BRANCH, who was so well known for his part in the famous Mastell Investigation, has been missing from his home for more than seven weeks. When he was first missed we shared with the public the thought that he might have slipped out of town on some errand similar to that which once took him to England—a secret mission to which his friends were privy, and that it would not be long before he would turn up again to furnish new merriment for the public. But the circumstances of his disappearance lead us to suspect that he will never be seen again in New-York alive. His brother assures us that he was scrupulously careful, wherever he went or whatever he did, to post up his friends as to his intentions. But no one of them now has any clue to his whereabouts. Mr. BRANCH, though a very eccentric man, was thoroughly honest, and of perfectly temperate habits. He had very little money with him when he left, and did not take a garment with him but what he wore upon his person. He often expressed his belief that he might be assassinated, and had received occasionally anonymous letters, threatening his life. His brother has thoroughly overhauled his papers, and found nothing among them to relieve the distressing anxiety of his friends, who are coming fast to fear that there has been foul play. The following card from his brother we have received, and shall be glad if it may lead to a solution of this mystery:

MISSING.

On the morning of his disappearance he wore a black cloth dress-coat, black pants, light-colored vest, with small figures, and black hat.

Mr. S. H. Branch was about 43 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches high, black hair, high forehead, heavy black whiskers and mouthpiece, and weighed about 140 pounds. Any information as to his whereabouts, or when last seen by any person, will be thankfully received, and kindly remembered by his brother,

THOMAS WM. BRANCH,
No. 216 Adams-street, Brooklyn.

N. B.—The City and Country papers will, by giving this advertisement notice in their columns, confer a lasting favor on T. W. BRANCH.

Brooklyn, L. I., Sept. 18, 1856.

The Farmers Conferring Degrees.

Yesterday, the people of Litchfield, Conn., held their annual agricultural gathering. The President of the Society, Hon. ROBBINS BATTELL, introduced the speaker of the occasion as Prof. ORANGE JUDD, of the American Agriculturist, &c., &c. Mr. JUDD disclaimed the professorship, and assured his hearers that he was better content to enjoy the plain Mr., or at most the title of Farmer. At the close of the address, a fine old farmer rising, moved that in view of the instruction they had received from Mr. JUDD, both to-day and in his paper, that the farmers of Litchfield confer upon him at once the title of Professor and guarantee to him all the rights and honors that pertain to the degree. It was carried by acclamation. As this was a regular meeting of a corporate body, we suppose the thing is regular and the recipient may be reckoned the first of a line of Professors of Agriculture.

Fremont in the Ninth Ward.

The regular weekly meeting of the Ninth Ward Republican Association was held last night, at Bleecker Buildings, the President, JOHN EXTON, Esq., in the Chair. The building, which is capable of holding from twelve to fifteen hundred people, was nearly filled. Ruy WARNER, otherwise known as "Uncle Ben," a true old soldier in the Republican ranks, was the first speaker. He was deservedly applauded. SAMUEL K. CURTIS, the newly elected member of Congress from Iowa, followed. His speech, which was quite eloquent, was loudly cheered. The Glee Club sang several campaign songs. There was large enthusiasm, and a thorough confidence that FREMONT would carry the State.

County Work House.

Mr. S. M. LAYTON, of Waterbury, Conn., has proposed to the Hudson County Board of Chosen Freeholders that if the County will pay up a building fund equal to the cost of accommodating fifty to sixty prisoners, and furnish the work, with raw material, such as Rattan, Willow, Cane, Shavings, Straw, Hickory, Rushes, Corn Husks, etc., he will make a total cost of $6,000, he will contract to board the prisoners for a period of five or ten years, for clothing and employ them in making work, at the following rates: Board of the Work House, $1 per week; board of the Jail, $1 50 per week; clothing, $1 per week; for the third year, $1 75 per week; for the fourth year, $2 per week; for the fifth year, $2 25 per week. The proposal was referred to the Committee on Work House, and the Committee find that the average number of prisoners, of the County, and the probable increase of jail expenses, the Committee recommend that the proposition of Mr. LAYTON be accepted, and the motion was adopted. Mr. L. proposes to pay all expenses for removal, etc. Persons not able, from sickness or infirmity, to work, are exceptions. He intends the building one story high, and it is to be lighted at the top.

MEDICAL.

[illegible]

TOOTHACHE.

Guaranteed by only one application, and many other diseases, can be cured by the use of Dr. Ayer's Anodyne Toothache Drops. Acting upon the nerve, it instantly allays the blood circulation. Once used, you will never willingly be without it. Only 12½ cents. Sold by Druggists generally.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.—MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common mature roots a remedy that cures every kind of humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over 1,000 cases, and never failed in any in two cases, [illegible] under treatment. He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of his success, all within the [illegible] of Boston.

One bottle has generally proved to cure a common humor.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst humors.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of boils.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst cankers in the mouth or stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of scrofula.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the blood.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of constipation.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Reader, I peddled over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. Persons with scrofula, as soon as they see the effects of Kennedy's Medical Discovery, I never call a bottle of it but that said another after a trial, it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this here that appear to me surprising—first, that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite plentiful, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1849; second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that in April, 1852, I peddled it, and sold about six bottles per day. In April, 1853, I sold over a thousand bottles per day.

Now, I cannot of late even supply—not the last year was set, and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults, one table spoonful per day; children over 8 years, dessert spoonful; children under 8 years, teaspoonful. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels once in a day.

Mr. KENNEDY gives personal attendance to bad cases of scrofula.

TRIESEMAR, No. 2.—Effectually eradicates all traces of those disorders which nursing and cubebs have so long been thought an antidote for to the ruin of the health of a vast portion of the population.

TRIESEMAR No. 3.—Is the great European remedy for that class of disorders which, unfortunately, the English physicians have so long treated with the destruction of the patient's constitution, and which all the Sarsaparilla in the world cannot remove.

Sold in the cases and divided to accurately close as advertised by Valpeau, Lallemant, Ricord, Cullerier, &c. To be had wholesale and retail, of Dr. BARROW, No. 157 Prince-st., a few blocks west of Broadway, New-York.

Special arrangements having been made with the various Expresses, the Triesemar, Sarsaparilla, and the Aperient will be forwarded by Dr. Barrow, carriage paid, immediately on receiving a remittance, to any part of the world, securely packed, and addressed according to the instructions of the writer, thus securing to the public genuine European preparations, and effectually protecting them from spurious and pernicious imitations. An immediate application should always be made; but if the disease has lain concealed in the system, or has spread by injudicious treatment, the undersigned knows himself especially competent to treat such cases, by a method at once safe, speedy and effectual. Dr. WATSON is in constant attendance, from 7 in the morning until 9 at night, at his consulting rooms and residence, No. 55 Walker-st., a few doors west of Broadway.

"What a beautiful girl Gen. Wool is! If it were not for the fact that he is married, I should think it was very sorry for the young woman's sake. Why does she not expel the scum from her blood and be cured of Itch or scrofula designed her? It is easy enough. Only let her try JAYNE'S WAFER.

"What a magnificent woman!" adds another admirer. "What a queenly form! What a queenly form! What an majestic face! Did you say she had the King's Evil? Horrible disease! She will never do for a wife and a mother." And yet it can be thoroughly eradicated from the system by the use of JAYNE'S WAFER.

"Noble young man!" says a third. "Brave, generous, full of manly eloquence and accomplishment, the hearts of his friends are bound up in his existence! Yet look at his cheek. Do you see the hectic flush? Hark to his hollow cough! Yes, he is on his way to the grave with continued consumption. But Heaven's sake do not utter him to die so young, so promising! There is but one remedy—it is unfailing, however—and that is JAYNE'S WAFER.

JAYNE'S WAFER is only prepared by Dr. HORACE JAYNE, and sold by ARNOLD & FOSSETT, No. 3 Second-avenue, Nos. 661 Broadway, New-York, and No. 48 Fulton-street, Brooklyn, at $1 per bottle.

THURSDAY, Sept. 18—P. M.

The Foreign accounts by the steamer Asia, from Liverpool Sept. 6, received this morning, are only two days later than the previous advices by the Arabia, at Boston. The Cotton trade had further improved, the sales of the entire week footing up 84,000 bales at an improvement of a sixteenth to an eighth of a penny, mostly to the regular trade who feel encouraged by the result of the English harvest. The Funds were ¼ ⅌ cent higher. Money 4¼ to 4½ ⅌ cent. No change in the Bank terms. The statement of the week, ending August 30, shows a loss of about $245,000 in Bullion. The French Bourse ruled steady; the Rente 76.60. Flour and Wheat are quoted at a further concession in prices for the two days; the feeling in the market at Liverpool on Friday, amounting almost to a panic. Indian Corn, though not sustained in price, continued to fair demand. The statement brings rather encouraging letters in regard to American Stocks. Mr. SAGTRENEWAITE and Messrs. BERRIAN & Co. address their English customers at considerable length on the progress of the Illinois Central. The circular of the former, based on Commerce Rangers, is very elaborate and thorough, and the conclusions arrived at are such as even the management at home would scarcely venture to put forth to the public, whatever may be their private view of the future of the work. Having very recently given our own analysis of the financial and land department of the concern, we deem it unnecessary, in the crowded state of our columns, to reproduce the figures of the London Circular. On the general market for American securities in London, Mr. S. writes to his English constituents:

AMERICAN SECURITIES.

From Sagtrenewaite's London Circular, Sept. 6.

There has been rather more doing in American Railroad Securities in London during the past week, and the market is cleared of many of the lots which had been offering at low prices. This is not to be wondered at, as the rates of interest which really sound capital are fetching is a strong inducement to investment capital. The London Times latest and frequently, of late, written in a tone to discourage investments in American railroads, without apparently considering that where such are made in the stocks of well-established roads, on which the holders have been regularly receiving 6@12 ⅌ cent. dividends, or in the bonds of such companies where they have regularly received 7 @8 ⅌ cent. interest, the gain to the community is very great, and the ability of the holders to lend more largely is constantly increasing. The case is widely different when people, in the hope of getting 7 or 8 ⅌ cents, take up new, illustrated and flagrantly undertakings, sometimes managed by English Directors, who have never been on the scene of operation, and are never likely to be—laid out by English engineers, and constructed by English contractors, on a much more expensive scale that the wants of the district require. In these cases, when the hope of any dividend or interest, except out of capital, appears far distant, it is beyond all question that we are large losers, and, as far as the holders are concerned, they might as well have bought into East Anglian or Eastern Union.

There is also another point of view in which to look at the matter. The holders of first-class American Railroad Stocks and Bonds, from the large returns they get, are not only enabled, but are induced to invest more money in similar concerns. Take for instance the following case:

The buyer of 2 Western Counties Shares, at £10, invests £20, and receives for his dividend £1, for the first half of the year, whilst the buyer of 1 Michigan Central share of $100, invests also £20 for the share, and receives for his dividend a clear £6. Now, this Michigan road has been in operation since 1846, and has been paying, on an average, nearly, if not quite 10 ⅌ cent. dividends. What a difference in the two investments!

Then, again, English capitalists are scarcely prepared for the tactics that American railroads can carry on single tracks, as the amounts of receipts, as compared with cost. Take, for instance, to keep to the same road, the Michigan Central; its capital is $8,000,000; its gross receipts for first half of this year are $800,000, or 10 ⅌ cent. on the total expenditure. Place against this the Midland Railway; its capital is £12,954,275; its gross receipts for first half of this year £738,402, or 5¾ ⅌ cent. on the total expenditure. Thus, for the Midland to take in the same proportion as the Michigan Central, it must receive £1,605,422, instead of £738,402.

The above is only an instance; many other similar comparisons could be drawn. The fact is, that, on American railroads, you have English receipts at one-third the outlay, so that there is no wonder at much larger dividends being earned and paid.

The failure of the Royal British Bank, announced by the last steamer, proves a more serious affair to the depositors than the stockholders. The latter held but $600,000; the former are in for about $4,210,000. The liquidation, it is feared, will prove a bad one, as large advances were made on unproductive property in Wales, and to certain parties connected with the mismanagement of the concern. The event of a bank failure, so rare in London, creates much discussion in the press. The bank was started on the Scotch credit and savings system, but it appears to have degenerated into the wildest speculations, pursuing no particular system whatever.

Our own Stock Market to-day was much excited by the continued heavy quotations in New-York and Erie shares, which reached 16,000 shares at the early and afternoon Boards and on the Street. The Asiatic brought over orders for 1,000 shares for Paris, which go forward in coupon certificates by the Fulton on Saturday. This takes off about 5 ⅌ cent. of the cash Stock now on the Street and on hypothecation. The home speculation for a rise, conducted this week mainly by the William-street firm noticed a day or two since, elicits much curiosity, though there appears to be no mystery about the fact of the ability of the parties to pay for all their purchases or the earnestness with which they continue to take the stock. The extreme advance over yesterday was 15¾@ 2 ⅌ cent.; sales as high as 62¾ ⅌ cent., closing after the Second Board at 62¼@62¾@62½ ⅌ cent. The general market is quite steady, the changes since yesterday on the Railroad list being an advance of 1 ⅌ cent. on Panama and renewed firmness, induced by one or two English orders, in Illinois Scrip. The Bonds were 94¼. A sale of $60,000 La Crosse 8 ⅌ cents was made to a foreign order at 87¾ ⅌ cent. Sinking Fund Sens.

There was remarkable quiet in Money and Foreign Exchange affairs to-day. The business in the latter for the Fulton will transpire to-morrow. Rates are full on both London and Paris, the supply being very much in the hands of the regular drawers; Sterling, 109¾@110; France, 5.16¼@ 5.15. The engagements of Gold for the steamer look like half a million of dollars. The steamer brings advices of a further advance in Mexican Silver for the East. The Sub-Treasury received to-day $244,578, and paid $271,649. Balance this afternoon, $18,699,202.

A letter to the editor, dated yesterday, from Cleveland, states that the Beaver extension of the Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad Company was completed on Saturday last, and an excursion train passed over it yesterday. This embraces 22¾ miles of the line between Pittsburg and Wheeling, on the bank of the Ohio River, and makes a connection with the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroads. Another portion of this line, 17¾ miles, will be opened to Steubenville in the course of the present month, then connecting with the Steubenville and Indiana Railroad, and it will be completed to Wheeling and Bellair in October, when it will connect with the Baltimore and Ohio and Central Ohio Railroads. The maximum grades of the entire river line is 13.2 feet ⅌ mile, and minimum radius of curvature 2,865 feet.

The Asia's news to-day seriously depressed Breadstuffs, and though these were generally freely offered at reduced prices, they were lightly dealt in. Flour fell off 15c.@20c. ⅌ bbl.; Wheat, 3c.@7c., and Corn nearly 3c. ⅌ bushel. A better inquiry prevailed for Cotton at firmer, though not quotably higher, rates. Provisions were in good request, and Pork was again a shade dearer. Groceries were also in lively demand at buoyant prices.

CINCINNATI AND INDIANAPOLIS ROAD.

Second mortgage 7 per cents	400,000
Real estate and domestic bonds	879,000
Total	$3,179,000

Real estate in course of sale	208,000
Bills receivable and material	310,159
	$3,179,800

Gross revenue second year, 1855	418,656
Seven months of 1856	$213,003
Estimated for remainder year	260,000
	$473,006

This Road was built by the Lawrenceburg and Upper Mississippi Company, from Lawrenceburg, Indiana, on the Ohio River, to the capital of the State, 92 miles. The corporate title was subsequently changed, and the Road extended into the city of Cincinnati, by an extra rail on the track of the Ohio and Mississippi Road, from Lawrenceburg, 24 miles. Its net earnings this year will be equal to 10 ⅌ cent. on the cost of the line, exclusive of the real estate which the Company are rapidly selling off to profit by liquidation of their domestic debt. The regular half-yearly dividends on the Stock have been 4 ⅌ cent., with the and ultimate prospect of an increase to 5 ⅌ cent. or 10 ⅌

We noticed, a few weeks ago, the prospect of a return to the finances of the Chicago and Mississippi (Dynamite) Road—the twenty-year lease to Mr. Sprague, which has been already sent to most of the Bondholders, to pass into the hands of Gov. MARYCHAUT, of Illinois, and Mr. LYNDEHAUS, of the Southern Michigan Road. We now learn, through a pamphlet address to the Bondholders, that the general features of the arrangement are:

"1. An entire change in the management and control of this Road.

2. A union of its creditors in favor of this plan, investing their account and aid in its profitable operation.

3. A temporary respite for three years of the payment of interest on your Bonds.

The first two conditions of this arrangement have already been secured, in case of your assent to the third. It has been arranged, in that event, to have the Road put under the control of Hon. Jos. A. MARYCHAUT and the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad Company, in connection with a new and satisfactory Board of Directors, to be by them operated, and its proceeds applied to the liquidation of its debts for the three years, unless those debts are sooner funded or paid off."

It appears that the work cost about nine millions dollars, as follows:

First Mortgage Bonds 7 ⅌ cents	$4,000,000
Second Mortgage Bonds 7 ⅌ cents	1,000,000
Third or Income 10 ⅌ cents	1,000,000
Capital Stock	2,000,000
Floating Debt	1,000,000
Total	$9,000,000

The Floating debt is much larger by this recent statement than has heretofore been supposed, and with the Stock is represented to constitute an interest of five millions dollars adverse to the enforcement of the mortgage rights of the bondholders. The proposition, therefore, to fund the accruing interest is put forth with the argument that the result must be:

"1. An expensive and protracted litigation, in a remote district, involving the validity of your security, and if you fail, the entire loss of your debt, and during the continuance of which you remain out of any income.

2. The liability even in case of success, of having to make large advances of money to preserve Rolling Stock.

3. The necessity of arranging the local debt.

4. The necessity of operating the road through non-resident Trustees, until it can be finally sold and paid for—a sort of operation all experience in Railroads teaches as wretchedly unprofitable.

5. The necessity of finding a purchaser for the Road when brought to sale. For it is not to be expected that any such sum as the aggregate of the moneys due you can be paid down for the Road in cash, whatever its real value.

6. Your inability to command favorable arrangements with the connecting Roads, which are controlled by creditors cut off by your proceedings."

On the other hand it is urged that the acceptance of the proposition will secure—

"1. A complete ratification and legalization of your securities.

2. Interest immediately on the aggregate of three years' interest on your debt. So that by deferring the interest on your claims for three years, you ultimately get it all and interest on that amount from this time, as if it were due at once, being nearly equal to an additional one ⅌ cent. a year on your principal debt.

3. A better assurance of the payment of your whole debt, principal and interest, than you would have even if successful in bringing the Road to a sale."

The circumstances which led to the embarrassments of the Road are fully and, no doubt, candidly set forth, and the conclusion is that, while they constitute a strong argument for the proposed reorganization, they have not grown out of the inability of the Road itself to earn—as indeed we understand it has been earning—a large amount of money. In view of this fact it is certainly desirable that some change should be wrought in the management. But so far as we have heard the expression of opinion among the Bondholders, the general tenor of this pamphlet is extremely distasteful to them. To be told that they have a productive property, which ought to be good security for their debt, but whose earnings they have not been permitted to handle for more than a year past, nor will not be for three years to come, is by no means pleasant. And the case is scarcely relieved by withholding of all information from the pamphlet as to where the net earnings are to go the next three years, and the peculiar character of the claims they are intended to satisfy. It may have been deemed unnecessary to throw any light on this point after the lawyer-like suggestion that, if the funding process is declined, the mortgage creditors will not be permitted to preserve their rights in quiet—because of an adverse interest among local creditors and shareholders—but it would have been respectful. We annex the prepared form of agreement for funding interest:

We, the undersigned, Holders of the Mortgage Bonds of the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis (late Chicago and Mississippi) Railroad Company, hereby respectfully and mutually agree:

To fund the interest due and to mature on our Bonds prior to the second of October, 1859, on receiving additional Bonds for the amounts so funded, such additional Bonds to be dated July 1, 1856, to be part of an issue of Bonds not exceeding in the aggregate $2,500,000, to have ten years to run; to draw interest at the rate of seven ⅌ cent. ⅌ annum, payable semi-annually, in the City of New-York; to contain a provision that the whole principal thereof shall come due in case of any failure in the payment of interest for thirty days, and to be secured by a Mortgage—as Trustees, which shall be a lien on the Road and its Rolling Stock, next after the lien of the three mortgages by which our present Bonds are secured, and which shall ratify and confirm those mortgages, and provide for such legislation as may be required to make them in all respects valid.

The warrants for the interest so to be funded are not, however, to be canceled, but are to be cut off by us on receiving said additional Bonds and deposited with the abovenamed Trustees, to be held by them for our protection, and as collateral to such additional Bonds.

COTTON.—The favorable news by the Asia has stimulated trade, and a very good inquiry has prevailed for most descriptions at about our previous quotations, though many factors claim a shade higher rates:

FLOUR AND MEAL.—The market for State and Western Flour is very dull and heavy at lower and irregular rates. The Asia's news has seriously injured the trade. The sales since our last have been confined to about 4,700 bbls., in lots, mainly at prices within the annexed range:

It will be seen that these quotations are generally 25c.@50c. ⅌ bbl. under those given in our last—though they are somewhat nominal, inasmuch as owing to the unsettled state of the market they cannot be correctly reported at present. Canadian remains very scarce and quiet at irregular prices. Southern is very heavy, though much cheaper. The sales since our last comprise about 1,400 bbls. Rye Mixed is heavy and Extra at $3 50@$3 56 and $3 62½ bbl. Rye Flour is in demand, and is worth $4 50@$4 62½ for Fine and Superfine, ⅌ bbl. Corn Meal is in demand and request, at $3 75 for Jersey, and $4@$4 12½ for Brandywine, ⅌ bbl. The latest letters $3 12½@$3 50 in purchases.

GRAIN.—Wheat is freely offered, and is quoted down 3c.@7c. ⅌ bushel, but the demand is very limited, and prices are quite nominal. The sales since our last comprise about 27,000 bushels, including good Canadian, White at $1 45; do. Western do., at $1 43@$1 45; do. do. Red, at $1 36; and Southern Red at $1 30 ⅌ bushel. Rye is still scarce and wanted at 90c. ⅌ bushel. 4,000 bushels were sold thereat. Oats are in the request and are firm, at 40c.@41c. for Ohio and Lake; 36c.@38c. for State; 41c.@42c. for Jersey; and 38c.@40c. for Southern ⅌ bushel. Barley remains scarce and quiet. It was last sold at $1 30 ⅌ bushel. Corn is but moderately sought after, though being decidedly cheaper. The sales reported since our last comprise about 51,400 bushels at 78c.@80c. for unsound, prime about 81,400 bushels at 80c.@81c. for Mixed; 82c.@83c. for sorted and damp; 81c.@82c. for Mixed; 83c.@84c. for Southern and Southern Yellow, and 86c.@87c. for Northern and Southern White ⅌ bushel.
